Chisel in hand, stood a sculptor boy
With his marble block before him;
And his face lit up with a smile of joy,
As an angel dream passed o'er him.

He carved that dream on the yielding stone With many a sharp incision; In Heaven's own light the sculptor shone, He had caught an angel vision. Sculptors of life are we, as we stand
With our lives uncarved before us,
Waiting the hour when, at God's command,
Our life-dream passes o'er us.

Let us carve it on the yielding stone, With many a sharp incision; Its heavenly beauty shall be our own Our lives, that angel vision,

The Boyhood of Jesus. His outward life was the life of those of his age and station and place of birth. He who has seen the children of Nazareth, in their red caftans and bright tunies of silk cloth, and heard their ringing laughter as they wander about the hills of their little native valley, may perhaps have some conception of how Jesus looked and played when he too was a child. And the traveler who has followed the children to their simple homes, and seen the scanty furniture, the plain but sweet and wholesome food, the une-ventful, happy, patriarchal life, may form a vivid conception of the man-ner in which Jesus lived. Nothing can be plainer than those houses, with the doves sunning themselves on the white roofs, and the vines wreathing about them. The mats or carpets are laid loose along the walls; shoes and sandals are taken off at the threshold; from the centre of the ceiling hangs a lamp, which forms the only ornament of the room; in some recess in the wall is placed the wooden box, painted in bright colors, which contains the books or other possessions of the family. On a ledge that runs around the wall within easy reach are the gay-colored quilts which serve as beds, and on the same lodge are ranged the earthen vessels for daily use; near the door stand the large, common water jars of red clay, with a few twigs and green leaves—often of aromatic herbs—thrown into their orifices to keep the water cool. At meal-times a painted wooden stool is placed in the centre of the apartment, a large tray is put upon it, and in the middle of the tray stands the dish of rice or meat or stewed fruits, from which all help themselves in common. Both before and after the meal the servant er the youngest member of the family brazen ewer into a brazen bowl. So

Ministering.

Pure religion and undefiled is "ministoring;" not the other thing, "being ministered unto." It is handing over the morning paper to another for first perusal. It is vacating a pleasant seat by the fire for one who comes in chilled. It is giving up the most restful arm-chair or sofa-corner for one who is weary. It is "moving up" in the pew to let the new-comer sit down by the entrance. It is rising from your place to darken the blind when the sun's rays stream in too brightly on some face in the circle. It is giving your own comfort and convenience every time for the comfort and convenience every time for the comfort and convenience of another. This is at once true courtesy and real Christianity. If we mean to copy the spirit of the Master, we must be ready in every relation of life and at every hour of the day, to give up being waited upon and to practise this self-sacrificing, beneficent and "ministering" graciousness cent and "ministering" graciousness of spirit and conduct.—New Age. A youngster while warming his hands over the kitchen fire, was re-monstrated with by his father, who said, "Go 'way from the stove; the weather is not cold." The little fellow, looking up at his stern parent de-murecy, replied, "I ain't heatin' the weather; I'm warming my hands." According to a decision of Judge Walter Murray, of the San Luis Obis-po and Santa Barbara district, there is no appeal from the decision of the Justices' Courts in cases under the Trespass law. LUMBER-YARDS.

Special Notices.

Borrowing money upon the installment plan is attended with these advantages: The oan can be repaid in small monthly amounts which include the interest and part of the principal, so that by the expiration of the principal, so that by the expiration of the term it can be all paid without any great inconvenience to the borrower. The rate of interest is generally lower. The expenses of obtaining the money are not so great as in ordinary loans, and if it is borrowed upon good paying properly then it often happens that the rents will meet the monthly installments and in time pay off the debt.

....MAY 18, 1875. TUESDAY,.....

ACCORDING to the Chronicle the Democratic primaries of San Franciseo resulted in the election of delegates about equally divided between FINDLEY and RYLAND. It, however, claims that neither of these candidates are yet certain of receiving a majority of that city's delegation.

WILLIAM C. RALSTON has sold his interest in the Palace hotel to Senator WILLIAM SHARON for the sum of $1,-750,000. Mr. SHARON is now the sole owner of that stupendous edifice. He is also the owner of the Cosmopolitan hotel, and rumor says will soon become the proprietor of the Lick house. He evidently imagines that he knows how to keep hotels.

That Banquet.

We have the details of the banquet given to the late proprietors and editor of the Sacramento Union on Thursday evening last. About one hundred and fifty persons were present, and the table was presided over by Senator BOOTH, with PAUL MORRELL seated on one side and JAMES ANTHONY on the other. The location of the noblest Roman of them all-editor SEABOUGH -whose pen has done more than all others to build up the reputation of the Union, is not given. The first speech was made by Senator BOOTH. It was one of those scholarly, polished little efforts for which he is noted. He reviewed the history of the Union, complimented the energy and incorruptibility of the Messrs. ANTHONY and MORRELL, and took occasion to say to all present that the meeting had no political significance but was simply an expression of the esteem in which the men who had managed and edited the Union was held by those present. ANTHONY responded in what was, for him, a very neat speech. He told what he knew about newspaper publishing, not forgetting to assure all principles, turning neither to the right | 13,000. nor left through fear or favor. He said but once had it been offered a bribe, and the manner in which that proposition was received had prevented the get again, and in order to prevent a great rush, we advise all to call early and take advantage of the building of mosthenes, Assemblyman Cowdery

Doyle to Miss Petra Sanchez, all of Los Angeles. over by the Senator and Mr. ANTHONY. for ourself. The plan pursued by Mr. which could not be placed on paper without sacrificing its most telling points, and so the reporters left it out. A number of other speeches were made and a multitude of toasts drank, but no one said ANTHONY for Governor once. Still it is understood that the primary, was to ascertain the sentiment of those invited as to the practicability of making him the standard bearer of the Independent party. They have gone home thinking about it, and we shall not be surprised if in a short time the columns of the Bulletin teem with editorials and communications urging the Independent State Convention to nominate "honest" eld JEEMS for

An Impossible Proposition.

Governor."

It is both amusing and pitiful to read the leaders of Republican organs about this time. Their efforts to drop salt on the tail of the Independent bird are no less fantastic than energetic. Above and beyond all in the great work is the San Francisco Chronicle. Its appeals to the frisky Independents to come into the Republican fold are pathetic almost to the verge of the serio-comic. Its arguments are as sound as those of a man who tells you that water is damp, powder explosive and calico dangerous. They are simply unanswerable. The gist of the whole story may be given in a sentence: Unless there is a combination between the Independents and Republicans the Democrats will sweep the State. This is all there is of it. A strong array of evidence might be set forth to prove that if they did combine the result would be the same, but for this there is no inducement, for the one all-sufficient reason that the combination cannot take place. The Chronicle and its co-workers are silly children crying for the moon. They are asking for an impossibility, for the mingling of oil and water, for harmony between the spark and gunpowder, for a mingling of light and darkness, for a fraternization of John F. Swift and Marcus D. Boruck. The thing cannot be done. A sunbeam is the only thing capable of passing through pollution unpolluted, and the Independent party is not a sunbeam. There might be a social shake of the hand between the Republicans and the Democrats-between the Devil and the angel Gabriel -but a combination of the Independents and Republicans, never. Those Independents who went out of the Republican party, went out to stay. They left because the air was foul and the food rancid, and they know that the accommodations are unchanged. They will none of it. If Mogul SWIFT should issue a pronunciamento setting forth that the Independents would not minate candidates and urging the supporters of NEWTON BOOTH to vote the Republican ticket, the hegira from the Independent camp would be like be no Republican nominees, and let MARCUS print one of his elegant and eloquent editorials advising the Republicans to support the candidates named by the Independents, and thousands of the faithful will vote the entire Democratic ticket, rejoicing that in so doing they are stabbing to the heart the odious Independent party. There can be no union between the Independents and Republicans on principle, and all attempts to effect a combination in the hope of party success, will be the signal for a grand rush into the Democratic camp. But suppose the Chronicle's prayer is answered and the absorbing process is undertaken, which of the snakes shall swallow the other? So long as each shall insist on being the absorber, as each certainly will, it will be a case of antagonism more determined than that of to-day; and while SWIFT and BORUCK are tossing up to find out which shall be the swallower and which the swallowed, their supporters will turn Democratic and the result will be like that of the Kilkenny cats, nothing left but the tails - John and MARCUS.

Matters Political.

The Yolo Mail, once a Republican paper, does not believe that Yolo couny will be represented in the Republi-an State Convention. The Yolo Mail says: "We know of no man in the State who would make a more honest, upright and conscientious Executive officer than Mr. Freeman." The same paper also strongly objects to the name of James Anthony being used in connection with the Governorship. A call for a convention of the people of Stanislaus county has been circulated and numerously signed by citizens of all shades of political faith, to be held in Modesto on Saturday, May 22d. The purpose of the call, as set forth, is "for the ratification of such candidates now before the people as, in our judgment, are worthy of our support, and for the nomination of suitable candidates to fill such offices as we deem the present aspirants unsuited and unqualified for.

The vote east at the Democratic pri-mary in San Francisco was a very large one, nearly 10,000 ballots having peen deposited. At the last general election the total Democratic vote of that the Union had always advocated the city was in the neighborhood of

NEW YORK, May 15th.—Morris and Tilton have taken care to see that all of the letters and papers of the present suit are in their possession, and have stored them away, for use in the criminal trials which in any event the plaintiff's counsel and Moulton's lawyers expect to urge to some settlement as soon as possible after the verdict, Judge Nettson remained in his study yesterday to outline his charge. remained in his study yesterday to outline his charge.

Beecher and his friends are serenely confident of a verdict, and are already counting on some joyful expressions on the finding. They claim that Judge Porter never enters on a case until he knows which side has the truth, and that if an offer does not come from that side, he refuses to be retained. This, they argue, will give such zest to his speech that he will not fail to carry a jury with him. Beach says that he believes the jury will not return a verdict for plaintiff, and on this belief he will make his speech short.

rasshoppers Again Devastating Wes tern States.

CHICAGO, May 14th.—Reports from portions of Missouri, Minnesota, Kansas and Nebraska state that the grasshoppers are already devastating the country of every green thing, and that the farmers are greatly discouraged. The pests seem to be young—at least they are very small—ranging from the size of a flea to that of a common house fly. But their destructive powers appear quite as great as those of the full-grown insect. Gentlemen who have recently been on a tour of Southwest Missouri say the grasshoppers are devouring everything green in that section. People are paniostricken, and cattle and horses are dying by hundreds of starvation. They can find nothing to eat, not even in the woods, as the grasshoppers have eaten the buds and leaves from the trees. In Minnesota, an investigation by a reporter of the St. Paul Press ent out especially for the purpose, shows that so far only a portion of four counties are troubled with the pests; but deposits of eggrs are found in other sections, and serious damage to the crops is feared.

Ex-Governor Downey is an ardent admirer of our public school system. Some time ago, in an oration, he de-clared it the duty of the State to clothe children, if necessary, in order to make them presentable as scholars. Now he offers a gold medal, with proper device and inscription, to the pupil of either sex attending the three classes of the High School of Los Angeles, whose record for excellent writing examinations stands highest during the school year just coming to a close The plan of offering medals in schools for superior scholarship had greater popularity thirty or forty years ago than it has at the present time. As an incentive to study and good deportment, the medal was a decided success. The State is not supposed to have the ability to provide medals for all the schools, but where private generosity seeks to create an ambition among the scholars as in this case, it will doubt scholars, as in this case, it will doubt-less be found to answer an excellent Henry Dockweiler, Esq., left on horseback for his mines at Castle Dome last Tuesday morning. We pity him; for as he passed our office, we noticed that he was riding a very sorry looking nag. Hon. Joe Redondo and Bill Pulfer were ahead, mounted on apparently better animals, and Bill would look back and say, "Come on, Henry," and Henry would give his poor nag a kick or two in the ribs, which did not seem to improve his speed much. As far as we could see them, Henry was getting further behind, and we expect to hear that he worked his passage or rode turnabout with his horse, if he ever got through. -Arizona Sentinel (Yuma).

The Sacramento Record gives the following instance of practical Grangerism: "About two weeks since a farmer named Bandy, residing near Flo-rin, met with an accident, which a few days afterward proved fatal. Besides the daily sessions of the Conference, there will be religious services each evening, to which all are cordially invited.

We were shown yesterday by the inventor a truly wonderful drill, the principle of which can be used in drilling iron, rock or earth. It will no doubt come into general use, as it is at once simple and effective. It consists of the following parts: A spiral drill stock, with double spiral turning in opposite directions from the centre of the rod. There are revolving discs at each end. When the handle is slipped forward the lower disc is caught, and when the handle is pulled

DEPARTED.

A Russian Merchant Takes French Leave of Los Angeles-A Bankrupt Stock and Beautiful Wife Abandoned.

For a week past our city has been agitated over the sudden disappearance of Max Russek, whose store on Los Angeles street, near the corner of Aliso, sports the following sign: "Max Russek, La Tienda de Marcos el Colorado." Max is a Russian by birth, and has been doing a rushin' business horses and a buggy at San Bernardino in Los Angeles for the past two months and a horse at Riverside, was arrested and a half. It has been all income and no out-go, to the intense disgust Mr. B. A. Hussey has come in with of his numerous creditors, who began two stages from Prescott, Arizona, to feel uneasy. The receipts amountwell filled with passengers. He re- ed to about $4,000 cash per month, and ports 25,000 sheep on the route to the still the complacent Max made no Territory, and a large number of emifinancial sign to his mercantile back-

Last Sunday week Max seemed to have something resting on his mind, and on Monday morning told his assistant in the business that he intended to rusticate for a few days, and At the close of Mr. D. Kilpatrick's placed the concern in his hands until Wetzel to Miss Julia Snyder, Rev. Dr. lecture on Sunday night at the Fort his return, promising to pay him well White officiating. street Methodist church, the names of for his faithfulness. He then mounttwenty-five new members were added ed a horse, borrowed from Durfee,

When last heard from, he was near San Fernando, riding Durfee's horse, and is supposed now to be safe in Mexico or Arizona, unless Mr. Chavez has made his acquaintance and examhad stored away. His creditors having exhausted their patience, put the Sheriff in charge of his store yesterday, and, should Max return from his little jaunt, he will find his occupa-tion gone, and Eugene Meyer and a San Francisco friend his successors in

This is the business side of the case, but the domestic features are still worse. About two months ago Max married a beautiful Spanish lady in San Francisco and they have since been living happily at the Lafayette Hotel, where his mother-in-law has been visiting him for several weeks. With a prosperous business and an accomplished wife, it would seem that Max Russek had everything to make a man happy; but in ruining his mer-cantile credit he has wrecked his domestic happiness by abandoning his wife in the most heartless manner. She is still here, overwhelmed with grief by his abandonment and almost broken-hearted, but receives the sym-pathy of the entire community in this evere blow. The runaway merchant is a young man, who gave the promise of a successful business career. He had built up a good credit, contracting debts to the amount of $13,000, for which he has left no provision for payment. It is no sudden freak, no eccentric idea, but a deliberate calculation, he having been changing gold and silver into gold notes for some time past. For the sake of getting a faw thousand the sake of getting a few thousand dollars which belong to others, he has sacrificed a promising business and ruined his credit for life. Destitute of character and bereft of wife, he will wander a terror - stricken fugitive through life, even if justice does not

Max Russek is aged about 28 years, feet 6 inches high, red hair, sandy complexion, and pleasant, gentlemanly manners. His friends and acquaint-ances are chagrined beyond measure at his abandonment of the path of honor and rectitude. In fact, his first appearance has been town talk for a day or two, and is now the sensation of the week. We have given the facts, and now leave him with his creditors.

Mr Warner landed at the mouth of the creek, nea-Los Angeles, when Columbas discovered America, and that was before the editor lef Ireland.—San Diego Union.

Both wrong. Los Angeles is located on the original site of the garden of Paradise, and Col. Warner commanded the guard who marched Adam and Eve from the premises after the little difficulty about the apple. The Col. liked the locality, and resigning his position in the army, returned and preëmpted the premises on which he has lived ever since. But joking aside, Col. Warner is an old and esteemed sition of Los Angeles and no teemed citizen of Los Augeles, and no one is better informed concerning the history of this part of the State than

ANAHEIM ITEMS.

It is reported to us that a certain Mr. Steinbach came to Anaheim some time ago. He lost everything he had on the Ventura, except his temper. He started in to reconstruct his wife on Saturday last and was wrecked again. His opinion is that he would rather go before the Justice than pass another night in our jail.—Anaheim

Gazette. This is the third husband who has This is the third husband who has attempted to reconstruct the lady. The first died before success crowned his efforts; the second threw up the sponge in a divorce court, and No. 3, no doubt finds it an uphill job, for he was in this city a few days ago, having abandoned the buxom lady. One hundred and fifty seven rats were captured in an Anaheim slaughter house in one night recently. The Gazette says the construction party of the Western Union Telegraph Company are now taking down the old telegraph line to Los Angeles, and when finished will immediately commence to build the line to Santa Ana, the supplies for which have already been received.

Our old friend Martin Wetzel, of the Anaheim Branch, was enthusiastic yesterday, and we only understood it when conductor Dunn whispered the fact in our off ear that he was married on Sunday night. Wetzel is usually in a good humor, but he was fairly effervescent yesterday, as congratulations showered on him from all sides. Here is our hand, Martin, hoping that you will not forget the newspapers, but continue to furnish them with many interesting items. The following notice of the marriage has been handed

An insane convict in the asylum of Auburn prison feels assured that he will become a lunatic if he does not whistle eight hours a day. He has no waten, and that he may be sure of fulfilling his task he commences at day-break, and only stops when he falls asleep at night.

"Gentlemen," cried a conductor on the Sayannah and Montgomery Rail-road, "please not to squirt your ambeer in this ke-yar. It is a dirty practice. If you want to squirt go into the forward ke-yar and you kin squirt as much as you please." Whereupon the squirters withdrew.

A witty Englishman who answered at a dinner at Concord, the other day, to the toast" the Queen," said: "I wish to express my satisfaction in being with you here to-day, and my equal satisfaction in having been absent a hundred years ago.'

"Fellow-citizens, the blood of those heroes comes trickling down from generation to generation, fertilizing the soil to patriotism and making the garden of Liberty look like a bed of fresh asparagus, which"—and until his wife jabbed her elbow in his back and told him to stop his jaw and go to sleep, he thought he was delivering the Centennial oration at Lexington.

Julian Hawthrone went to see the Julian Hawthrone went to see the Oxford-Cambridge race on the Thames the other day, and his conclusion is that there were but two men among the winning oarsmen who would be considered acquisitions to a good Harvard crew. He calls on the American colleges to send ever another crew well practiced in the English stroke, and beats his pile that they will show the Englishmen the shortest way yet from Putney to Mortlake.

The Rochester Democrat is another

The Rochester Democrat is another of those papers which are antagonistic to the poet-editor of the Philadelphia Ledger. It says: "Don't send us obituary poems, young persons. Remember that George W. Childs of Philadelphia pays ten cents a line for such articles of grief." The insinuation that G. Washington Childs, A. M., have obitus processors at the rate of ten. buys obituary poetry at the rate of tencents a line, and palms it offat an admiring public as his own, is too pitifully mean and low to be seriously re-

It is related that the Postmaster of Monticello, Ga., recently performed the feat of reading a letter without hearing the contents. An old woman hearing the contents. An old woman who had never been to school got a letter one day and asked the Postmaster to read it for her. She did not want him to hear it, so she took a wad of cotten out of her pocket and stuffed his ears with it. She then had him read the letter in a low voice, and was perfectly satisfied that the reader could not hear a word of it.

A good many years ago a Massachu-Lieutenant Govenor. When the fact of his election was announced he was called upon for a speech. He proceeded to acknowledge the honor in very handsome language, and added that he had no doubt he would make a good Lieutenant Govenor, as that was the office he had always held in his own

A" Georgia Cracker" writes to the Florida Union explaining the origin of the nickname as follows: "years ago, before mills were established in this country, when the backwoodsman, or those who lived in the interior, remote from the ports of entry, were unable to procure transportation, they adopted a way by which they cracked corn with huge rocks. The interior people were thus labled with the distincton corncrackers—hence the term 'cracker.'
